CHURCH UNITS OF THE EUROPEAN DIVISIONS OF THE SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH, 1890-2018

Part 1: Aphabetical index of the church units and their periods of operation as listed in the Yearbook

Part 2: Annual overview of the church units, as listed in the Yearbook, and as they were actually

Part 1: Aphabetical index of the church units and their periods of operation as listed in the Yearbook

Also includes church units in other continents that belonged to a Division that also had European church units.

This document is an Index to another document I made which shows the structure of the Divisions that covered Europe as given in the Yearbook year by year. This is another working research document that I compiled during my research and it is unfinished.

In my work for ESDA I wrote articles on European church units and I had no document that gave me an overview of these church units, their duration, and relation. This document serves as an overview of all of them. As in the other document, there are empty columns awaiting fulfillment with corrected information (since the Yearbook is not meant for historical research and gives the start and end of church units usually too late). Yellow fields mean that the church unit was listed under different names and I have not decided which one is the best entry for the Index. I started marking names in gray to refer to a more common name of the church units but did not finish this.

The reader must also beware that this is a work in progress (which I myself do not intend to complete). Some church units had different names but are still to be treated as the same church unit, and this is something the reader will not figure out just by reading this list. Moreover, I have not given explanations when church units disappear in the Yearbook and reappear (this is usually due to war, political circumstances, or because the church unit was being moved or reorganized so the Yearbook left it out and waited the final results, apparently).

The document is divided into geographical sections. The most useful and complete is the first one, Europe. Divisions that covered Europe also covered church units that existed in other continents, and therefore there are three other sections: Africa, Middle East and North Africa, and Asia. These only list the church units during the period in which they belonged to European Divisions. They may have existed before or after the periods given.

Sometimes I have not finished the periods or not found out when they occurred. This is the reason why some periods end with $\frac{D}{D}$ (the D has no meaning, just indicates I have not filled in the year). The year can often be found easily by a search in the other document that lists the Divisions year by year.

Feel free to use this document as much as you need and can. If it is of substantial help, please mention my aid in Acknowledgments if there are any in the publication.

You may also distribute the document in Word or PDF format, as long as you keep the header.

Part 2: Annual overview of the church units, as listed in the Yearbook, and as they were actually

Purpose

This document is an annual overview of the church units that belonged or belong to the European Divisions of the General Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

This document serves as a research tool. The immediate purpose for why I made the document is that I wrote articles on church units for ESDA and had no such overview at hand. The document is of course incomplete (the right columns have not been filled out, see Description here below) but it is still helpful. It makes it possible for the researcher to see the structure of a Division/Union at a glance in any given year. It also makes it possible with a simple word search to see how long any given church unit lasted (If you have the Heading columns on on your left in Microsoft Word and search for the name of a church unit, the respective years when it existed will become highlighted).

Description

The documents lists the church units of all the European Divisions as given in the Yearbook according to year and Division. The Divisions are organized somewhat chronologically:

- 1. Europe, later the European Division 1890–1928
- 2. Central European Division 1929–1971
- 3. North European Division, later the Trans-European Division
- 4. South European Division
- 5. Euro-African Division and then Inter-European Division
- 6. USSR church units, later Euro-Asian Division

Each page represents a year in the Yearbook and is divided into two columns. On the left side, the church units are listed as they were given in the Yearbook. On the right side there is space to list them as they actually were (the Yearbook is usually behind when it comes to changes).

The units are listed according to hierarchy and then the alphabet: The Unions are listed alphabetically under their given Division, and the Conferences each one contains alphabetically, followed by Fields/Missions/Stations, which I have not differentiated.

The list is also geographical: First come all the European church units, then the non-European ones. This was a Eurocentric choice and a practical one: I used the document for my research into European church units, and it made my research easier to group all the European ones together and the non-European ones separately. I think this geographical grouping will also be helpful to other researchers, who are most likely researching a given geographical area. But this means that the order of the church units is not always the same as in the Yearbook.

New church units (new in the sense of appearing in the Yearbook, whether for the first time, or after the absence of a year or more) are given in blue color. Church units that are moved from one Division/Union to another are colored purple with their former place given in parentheses.

Usage

Feel free to use this document as much as you need and can. If it is of substantial help, please mention my aid in Acknowledgments if there are any in the publication.

You may also distribute the document in Word or PDF format, as long as you keep the header.

CENTRAL EUROPEAN DIVISION
"Owing to unsettled conditions in the field, outlying sections formerly a part of the Central European Division territory are being administered temporarily by the General Conference Mission and the Southern European Division. The number of churches and members has been adjusted accordingly.
The matter shown under the Central European Division, its union and local fields, and institutions, is largely as it appeared in the 1946 Yearbook, with notations regarding the fields that are being temporarily administered elsewhere."
